THE DAILY MEMPHIS AVALANCHE.

By M. C. Gallaway & Co MEMPHIS, TUESDAY, MARCH 17, 1868. (Volume Eleven---Number 57

THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

Brownlow has gone to Washington. This has no reference to the Ku-Klux.

A letter from Glasgow gives the army roll of members of the I. R. B. in Cork county, Ireland, mustering 7,306.

The Iron Mountain railroad will again be placed in the hands of Allen, who will go on with its construction.

Dr. W. B. Robison, formerly Colonel of General Bate's old regiment, is practising his profession at Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

A kerosene lamp exploded in the Columbia Hotel, in Scranton, Pennsylvania, on Thursday night, and the building was consumed.

General Hancock, in response to appeals from numerous persons excluded from registration in Texas, has issued an order reversing many arbitrary decisions.

The city currency of New Orleans has depreciated to thirty per cent. discount. The notes are refused everywhere, and great distress exists.

The University of Pennsylvania held its commencement exercises Friday. One hundred and fifty graduates received the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

Claiborne county, East Tennessee, where the whisky rebellion defies law in mountain fastnesses, gave 795 votes for Brownlow, and 159 for his competitor. "Trooly loil."

It has been reported that Dickens has sent $5,000 to his sister-in-law, in Chicago. At last accounts that lady had not been put in possession of any facts confirming the report.

The Radical papers throughout Tennessee, who are noted for their opposition to social organizations, are making frantic howls against the Ku-Klux Klan, whatever that is.

The military excursion party, which left New Orleans on the new steamer Josephine for the Rio Grande, have been wrecked on the bar at Brazos. All are safe and will return by another steamer.

Mr. Thomas Everman, formerly of Jackson, Tennessee, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in Knox county, Missouri, for killing a Dr. Taylor in a heated political quarrel.

Last Saturday was Andrew Jackson's birthday. One of his contemporaries in the Louisville Courier says: "Had he lived to this time he would be one hundred and one years old."

Major Donaldson, of Tennessee, who has the direction of a memorial to Congress for one million dollars to build a levee for the Yazoo basin, has met with much encouragement.

General T. C. Hindman, of Arkansas, has consented, at the urgent request of the State Central Committee, and the Phillips County White Man's Union, to address the people against the Radical constitution.

The boy George Stephenson, who formerly traveled with Artemus Ward as a companion, and for whom the latter evinced such a strong affection, has been arrested in Toronto on a charge of stealing money letters.

A prisoner in the Union City jail, anticipating an escape last week, wrote his valedictory, but it led to the detection of his plans, and the document went out instead of the writer.

A correspondent of the Scientific American recommends onions as a specific against epidemics—not as an esculent, but sliced and kept in a sick room, where they will absorb any atmospheric poison. They should be replaced by fresh ones every hour.

A man who had filed a petition for divorce was informed by his counsel that his wife had filed a "cross petition," as lawyers call it. "A cross petition!" exclaimed the husband; "that's just like her—she never did a good natured thing in her life."

A woman named Ellen Burns, about thirty years of age, was run over and killed on the track of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, opposite the House of Refuge, near Louisville, about two o'clock p.m. on Friday last.

A heavy run was made last week on several prominent banks in Nashville, and consequently they all had to suspend. Many business men are heavy losers. The police took charge of the assets, consisting of valuable tables, chips and other apparatus peculiar to National faro banks.

A traveler who was recently in Little Rock, Arkansas, thus records his experience at the principal hotel there: "The fare is not in proportion to the charges. Four dollars per day ought to allow more than four beans to a cup of coffee! At breakfast one of the guests desired the waiter to take back his cup of coffee and pump some of the water out of it."

Pope Pius has granted, during Lent, to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy of the United States, whilst on service, or in barracks, etc., dispensation from the rule of abstinence, except on six days in each year, viz: Ash Wednesday, the last three days of Lent, the Vigils of the Assumption of the B. V. M., and that of Christmas.

A traveling animal "magnet," in Georgia, who cures people by the laying on of hands, has a certificate from a man in South Carolina who was examined by forty-eight Confederate surgeons, who all pronounced him incurable from curvature of the spine and paralysis. The "Professor" cured him with nine doses of animal magnetism. We could cite many instances where men were thus afflicted, and they were always worst off when conscript officers were about.

Senator Wilson referred, Friday, to a rule of the Tennessee courts as a precedent in the impeachment trial. We beg to inquire what court he meant. If he alluded to Leonard's court, it will take four writs of grab 'im to catch a man, and then it will not be done. See case of Leonard vs. Bond. If Hunter's court was the one meant, it will supply to order any precedent the Radicals may require, from a thief on the bench to a Judge in a nigger bar room.

This is a beautiful paper, that every farmer and every farmer's wife—that every nurseryman and his wife, and every stock raiser and his wife, and the sons of these, should read and its advice follow.

From the following papers learn the verdict of the Southern press:

From the Memphis Avalanche.

"We hope no planter in the Southwest will regard his household gods as complete without a copy of the SOUTHERN FARMER. * * * It is a splendid publication in every respect, which should be in the hands of all interested in such matters."

From the Gallatin Examiner.

"One of the best agricultural papers in the country, is the SOUTHERN FARMER, published at Memphis by M. W. Phillips & Co., at $2."

From the Memphis Bulletin.

"It is exactly adapted to the wants of the people in this neighborhood and the Southwest."

From the Memphis Appeal.

"It is an excellent paper, and in every respect merits the patronage of our farmers and planters. * * * Two dollars cannot be expended to more advantage than on a year's subscription."

From the Memphis Public Ledger.

"We take much pleasure in recommending THE SOUTHERN FARMER to our planting friends as a journal whose worth to them cannot be estimated in dollars."

From the Southern Eagle, Miss.

From Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Every man should read in his profession. The farmer must read and study his by the best lights or he will lose ground. He should cultivate in his sons a love for agriculture, horticulture and stock raising, and he can do this no more cheaply or successfully than by taking an agricultural paper.

One well conducted Southern paper, located as THE SOUTHERN FARMER is, in the center of the South and West, and ably conducted by the South's ablest pens, is worth more to Southern farmers than all the papers written at the North and for Northern farmers. Try the FARMER one year. mh13w

NATIONAL TELEGRAPH.

THE NATIONAL

TELEGRAPH COMPANY

A NEW enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The Stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country which the lines pass.

THE CAPITAL IS TO BE

$10,000,000

In 100,000 shares of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 PER SHARE

and this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; installments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued. This will give the Company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies throughout the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this Company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The Stockholders of this Company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other Company. The act of Congress under which this Company has been organized prohibits any transfer of the franchise granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE

One per cent of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent. is paid, until the entire Capital Stock shall have been subscribed

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 Miles of Wire

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States. This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY is organized under the laws of the State of New York, and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

President—GEORGE B. SENTER, of Cleveland, Ohio.

COMPANY'S OFFICE,

Nos. 64 and 66 Broadway, New York

A limited amount of the capital stock of this Company is allotted to this locality, and those having an opportunity, and subscribing will be placed upon equal terms with its corporators, and will secure like interests in all franchises which have accrued, or may hereafter accrue to the Company from any and all sources.

EDITORIAL
THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD

TUESDAY, : : : : MARCH 17, 1868

IT HAS been shown by history that tyrants and despots are naturally cowards, and that they are universally insensible to shame. HUNTER, in pocketing the repeated insults we have offered him, proves himself a pusillanimous poltroon, and if he can read the extracts we publish below, without shame, without feeling a deep turkey-red suffusing his ugly cheeks, the truth of history will be fully vindicated. There seems to be a general scowl of indignation, not only in this community, but through the whole Union, at this infamous conduct of the infamous old thief who now disgraces the Criminal Court Bench of this unfortunate city. The first letter below emanates from a graduate of the St. Agnes Academy—a bright-eyed girl of great talent and popularity. Her sweet letter is the noble outgushing of a noble heart:

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, March 12, 1868.

MRS. GALLAWAY: The noble, fearless, independent position you have taken against a lawless tyranny, and in defense of heaven-born rights, is to-day the theme of universal comment, and, while a feeling of indignation is justly aroused against the petty tyrant, who, in the outraged name of Justice, would steal our few remaining liberties, it will perhaps lighten the burden of your grief to know that your words have struck a sympathetic chord in every woman's heart, beating responsive to your own; and from every household, in which a husband's love is felt, a husband's name enshrined, there ascends a fervent prayer that the powerful shield of a Father's love may guard, cherish and protect the noble wife, who, true to her woman's nature, clings with the most steadfast devotion, the most unfaltering allegiance to her husband's name and honor, in the dark hour of trial and care. May the proud consciousness of a wife, worthy of his name, be a solace, during those long, weary hours; and may she, the good, the noble and the true, be rewarded by the recollection of his love and tenderness, for whose sake and in whose defense she would willingly, aye, unflinchingly, "bear all, endure all."

Most respectfully, your friend, C. C.

MEMPHIS, March 12.

EDITRESS AVALANCHE—Dear Madam: I see by this morning's editorial that the "honored wife" of the worthy editor is now presiding over the interests of his paper, and judging from the first day's appearance of its columns, I am sure it could not have fallen into better hands. With regard to your beloved husband's incarceration, you must assuredly have the sympathies of everybody—and may the "spring sun" shine brightly through his prison bars. NORA.

MRS. M. C. GALLAWAY:

God bless you my own darling friend. Truly am I glad that the loved cause of liberty has one Roman matron left. God will protect you from old grand-mother Hunter. It is useless for me to add to be steadfast and firm. I have known you in times that tried our souls, and my friend was not found wanting.

Truly, dear Fannie, your friend,
SALLIE.

MRS. M. C. GALLAWAY:

Almost a stranger, I yet may speak one tender word; my heart, my respect, my admiration are with you. The South can never forget her liberties while Fannie Gallaway can thrill her with eloquence, and patriotism, and courage that would grace her bravest generals.

Your friend, N. M.

LACONIA, ARKANSAS, March 14, 1864.

MRS. GALLAWAY: I have just received an AVALANCHE, in which I find your noble letter, declaring your intention to take charge of your husband's paper.

I hope, Mrs. Gallaway, you will not think it presumptuous, or bad taste, in me to express to you in this manner my hearty admiration of your course, and sincere and deep sympathy for you and your husband in your unfortunate situation. I have watched with interest and admiration the course of the AVALANCHE during the whole of that unjust and tyrannical persecution, but feel and appreciate now more than ever the purity and justice of its cause, to see it defended by one of our noble women of the South. I dare say you may not remember our brief acquaintance, but I remember it with pleasure, and now extend to you the hand of friendship, with the wish that you and your husband may very soon be relieved from the clutches of a tyrant, and both spared long to our country, to aid us in the cause of freedom and liberty. Sincerely your friend,

MARY M——.

Despotism in Memphis.

The warfare that has been waged so justly on the part of the bold and fearless champion of Constitutional rights, Colonel M. C. Gallaway, of the Memphis AVALANCHE, against Judge Wm. Hunter, the dirty pimp and tool of Radicalism that now disgraces the criminal judicial bench of the Memphis District, has at last culminated in the incarceration of the former. Thus it is that the exponent of the people, the press, is to be gagged, and the man who dares to expose the villiany, rascality and outrages of an unprincipled official is to be dragged from his home and family to a loathsome prison, in abeyance to the edict of a petty tyrant.

The AVALANCHE has for months past from time to time, exposed the corruption of the "little Judge," in such glaring and pointed terms, that he has seen proper to gratify his personal malice by an unwarranted exercise of arbitrary power in imprisoning the editor, instead of seeking that redress that wounded honor demands, through the ordinary channel. The petty Judge in pursuance of his desire to suppress the AVALANCHE, has "fettered the eagle and imprisoned the lion"—but thank God, that while neither the chief or local editors are allowed to wield the pen in behalf of right and justice, and are debarred the privilege and pleasure of lashing the miserable tools of despotism, the noble consort of the persecuted chief comes proudly and defiantly to the rescue.

The heart of every true patriot Southron must have burned and glowed with mingled emotions of admiration, pride and hatred at the announcement of Mrs. Fanny B. Gallaway's noble and courageous assumption of the management of the editorial columns of the AVALANCHE. Admiration and pride that we can boast as noble and true a spirit as the immortal editress of the AVALANCHE; hatred for the low, detestable miscreant who disgraces the name of Justice (Judge William Hunter), the mean and abhorrent embodiment of corruption and filth who has dared to imprison the gallant Gallaway and Campbell.

From the Nashville Banner.]

The Avalanche—An Eloquent Salute from Its New Editor.

Our telegraphic columns yesterday informed the readers of the Banner of the arrest of the entire editorial corps of the Memphis AVALANCHE, and the assumption of its management by Mrs. Gallaway, wife of Colonel M. C. Gallaway, its principal editor. The issue of that journal, containing the particulars, has reached us, and we hasten to lay such of them as may be of interest before the public. The local columns contain only the following announcement:

"Yesterday afternoon Judge Hunter issued a warrant commanding the Sheriff to arrest and lodge in jail Colonel M. C. Gallaway, chief editor of this journal, for contempt. The offense was the appearance of an editorial relative to the Judge. Accordingly Colonel Gallaway was arrested by Captain Winters, and committed to the county jail, where he is now confined. Further reference to the matter is had on the second page."

These lines ring out with true feeling, and will find the heart of all. The editorial matter which follows is quite up to the average, and the entire issue of the paper speaks for the capacity of the new chief. Success to her, say we! We know her to be as noble a lady as there is in the land, and we feel the profession elevated a peg or two by her accession, temporary though it be.

Judge Hunter and the Memphis Press.

From the Cairo Democrat.]

The notorious Judge Hunter, of Memphis, is carrying matters with a high hand in that city. He has imprisoned two editors, Colonel Gallaway and Mr. Campbell, of the AVALANCHE, and has prohibited them from using their pens while in confinement. The only crime charged against them is that of telling the truth about this unworthy Judge. Has it come to this? Is it possible that, in this boasted land of liberty, the press cannot criticise the conduct of petty office-holders? that editors must submit their articles to the inspection of corrupt and malicious Judges, or else expiate the offense of refusal in solitary confinement? Who now speaks of Austrian despotism? If he is an American, bid him look at the Radical despotism which domineers in Tennessee, and has raised a tyrant like Hunter to the bench. While we weep over the wrongs of Ireland, let us not neglect to mourn over the wrongs of the white Conservatives of the State in which Brownlow lives and Hunter uses the power of the bench to crush out the freedom of the press. But this imprisonment will not detract from the fair fame of either of the editors. It will be a feather in their caps, and will commend them to the respect of every person who abhors corruption and admires that boldness which does not hesitate to denounce it wherever its disgusting features are seen. Dressed in a little brief authority, Hunter is playing fantastic tricks, and in a weak way, is performing the part of a petty tyrant. Without any ability to make good his pretensions he puts on the airs of a great man; and, while adulating his ignorant black backers, robs them of what they have stolen from somebody else. No lawyer, he acts the judge in an unbecoming manner, and has nothing in common with any of his judicial brethren but that insolence with which some of them disgust the public, and that corruption which sometimes pollutes the bench. If the occasion offered, he would act the part of a Jeffrey; and, if he had the courage and the necessity required, he would not hesitate to earn his bread as Dick Turpin earned his, although the profession of sneak thief would be more consistent with his cowardly habits than the bolder and more dangerous business of the highwayman. When he received charity at Mound City, he was humble; when he rented a house in Cairo and "evacuated" it without paying the rental, he was meek; but now, being a Judge by the grace of a human brute like Brownlow, he is insolent, and has undertaken to crush out the freedom of the press in Memphis. The meanest negro in the Bluff City is his peer. He has few superiors in meanness, even among Radical politicians!

From the Cairo Democrat.]

BRAVO!

Brave Words from a Gallant Woman.

MRS. GALLAWAY ASSUMES THE EDITORIAL CHAIR OF HER IMPRISONED HUSBAND.

Judge William Hunter, having arrested and imprisoned Colonel M. C. Gallaway, of the Memphis AVALANCHE, Mrs. Gallaway mounts the empty tripod, and in the following brief, pithy and eloquent salutatory, greets the public of the Bluff City. We are compelled to praise this noble woman's gallantry, and hope her words, written and spoken, may contribute something to the work of overthrowing the Radical despotism which now oppresses the country.

From the Louisville Journal.]

Judge Hunter, of Memphis, imprisoned an assistant editor of the Memphis AVALANCHE for writing an article against him. Mr. Gallaway, the chief editor, then wrote a still more violent article, whereupon the Judge imprisoned him, and subsequently declared that he would imprison every successor of Mr. Gallaway till he filled the jail. Mr. Gallaway's first successor is his gallant wife, who gives public notice that she is occupying the post of danger. We hope and believe that she will denounce the judicial tyrant even more vehemently than her husband did. No doubt Hunter will imprison her, but, true woman as she is, she can afford to stay in jail as long as he can afford to keep her there.

This filling up of jails with gentlemen and ladies in time of peace and without trial because they dare to exercise the freedom of the press should be rebuked and avenged. We will not say in what mode. Surely a proper one can be found.

Since the writing of the preceding paragraphs, we have seen in the AVALANCHE of Thursday Mrs. Gallaway's first article on Judge Hunter. We give it in another column. You will do, Mrs. Gallaway. As a brave sister of the quill we salute you.

From the Nashville Gazette.]

The Most Contemptible Case on Record

Is that of "Judge" Hunter, at Memphis. He has several cases of contempt constantly on hand, with the prospect of an ever increasing supply. He is kept on his "dig." so incessantly that "the court" can do little else.

All the editors and proprietors being in jail for contempt, the AVALANCHE of Thursday comes out in crinoline. Mrs. Fanny B. Gallaway takes the helm; and everybody knows she is a two-hundred pounder. Her inaugural is womanly, modest, firm, charming, effective.

Hunter has not extinguished the AVALANCHE just yet; nor has he secured his contemptible character from just assault. True to its premise of Wednesday, the AVALANCHE of Thursday proceeds to "ventilate" him further.

Now there's another case of flagrant "contempt." Is "the court" equal to this new emergency? Will "Judge" Wm. Hunter send Fanny Gallaway to keep company with Matt? Nous verrons!

From the Little Rock Gazette.]

The fellow Hunter, who was at one time a common loafer about Cairo, cherishes a malignant spite against the AVALANCHE, which has on divers occasions revealed some of his rascally practices. Its editors have been fined and sentenced to imprisonment heretofore on two charges of "contempt."

The arrest of Campbell drew some editorial comments from Colonel Gallaway, and he has been likewise arrested and imprisoned for "contempt" because he has exposed the disreputable character of this judge elected by negro votes; and his most estimable wife has taken charge of the paper in the meantime.

These occurrences in reconstructed Tennessee but faintly indicate the future condition of Arkansas when the offices are filled by negro votes. However, no people can long tolerate a rule which produces this state of affairs.

From the Grenada Sentinel.]

A Noble Lady and a Dastard Judge.

If ever the spirit of a Roman matron lived in the heart of an American woman, it beats in the breast of Mrs. Fanny B. Gallaway, the wife of the generous hearted and talented editor of the Memphis AVALANCHE. We have the pleasure of knowing her, and feel that our pen is entirely too weak to do her that justice which she merits. Her gallant husband has been subjected to the tyranny and despotism of a contemptible blackguard, a vile specimen of human nature, who has been elevated to the position of Criminal Judge just in the same manner that excrescence comes to the surface of water during a turmoil. We mean that old vindictive baby and miserable old wretch, Judge Hunter, who is a disgrace to the name of man and a carricature on the Judiciary. Colonel Gallaway, the editor, and Captain Campbell, the local, have been placed in close confinement by this thing, who sits on the judicial Bench with about as much dignity as Lucifer would rule in Heaven, for expressing their honest conviction of his fraud and partizan conduct. The arrest of both of the editors of the AVALANCHE at the same time was a blow aimed at the closing of the office, but the noble wife of the editor has come to the post of her husband, and will carry on the paper with the usual spirit and increased interest. She is a spirited and able writer, and the thing of the Judicial Bench will find in her the same independence of the husband. Below we give her article on the subject.

In the name of the wife who has been forced from that privacy where, we trust, she has done many deeds of charity—in our own name, we return thanks to our cotemporaries of the press and to those noble ladies who have so eloquently expressed their sympathy for us in our mutual struggles with despotism. We expect to live—aye, we will live to see our villifiers and slanderers blush with shame at their cruel persecutions. These sweet words of cheer, these patriotic sentiments, light up our future pathway, and beckon us onward and upward. We care not how thick and fast the blackened darts of calumny may fall around our pathway, so the old Spartan band and new friends still cluster around us, ready to shield us with their smiles. We will live down our foes, the cohorts of despotism and oppression, and proudly plant our banners upon the very citidel of their strength, if this can be accomplished by unbending integrity and a courage which can never be conquered. What is to be the upshot of all this excitement, all this tomfoolry, and all this war upon the freedom of the press, and the rights and liberties of the people, we know not, thank God, we know not; but this we do know, we are prepared for the worst. The Rubicon is passed, the bridge is burned, and whether, for the next twelve months the chief editor is to live in a dungeon, and the paper be edited by his superior in intellect and devotion to truth, justice and liberty, we know not. But this much we vouch for, that whether the AVALANCHE be under the management of husband or wife, the heart of the great Democratic people, now throbbing and welling up with scorn and hatred for despotism will see that ——"The diamond we refine,

The more 't is cut, the more 't will shine."

WHEN a man becomes the shame of his friends, the pity of his enemies and the contempt of all, it is customary to turn from such a creature in disgust. But we cannot do this. It is true the name of WILLIAM HUNTER is as stench in the public nostrils. Our readers hold their nose whenever his name is mentioned, but we wish it distinctly understood that we are not warring with the man. Were we disposed we could not sink him lower, for he has already erected a "monument of brass" which will keep his infamous name fresh in the recollection of the world for all coming time. We are contending for great and eternal principles, the rights of the press, the rights of the citizen, the bill of rights of Tennessee, and the Constitution of the United States. The liberty of all are involved, and in such a contest HUNTER is no more than the bow of his fiddle, and we are no more than a mote floating in the air. If we use a name that is distasteful to our readers, we do so as the phrenologist uses the ghastly skull while lecturing, or as the naturalist uses the dead frog while experimenting. We repeat, everybody is interested in the present contest. It is once more the old story of the tree and the ax. The woodman went into the forest and demanded of the fraternity of the trees the sacrifice of a single member to his necessity. All agreed to give up to him the slender ash. No sooner was the ash down than the woodman fitted its tough stem to the head of an ax, whose edge he laid so lustily to the roots of the "green-robed senators of mighty woods" that the forest began to disappear. "Ah!" murmured the oak, "if we had not consented to the fall of the first of our number we might have stood firmly for ages." The time is close at hand when our neighbors and friends may as vainly regret that they did not war with us against the usurpations by which a fanaticism seeks to deprive us of our rights. If we are to be imprisoned by a petty tyrant for promulgating the truth—for exercising the freedom of the press—a handle will be furnished for the ax now in the hands of every mushroom tyrant in our midst, and the liberties of the people will be prostrated like the forest under the desolating hand of the laborious woodman. If our liberties are to be fettered by a crazy knave, who proposes to trample us under his unhallowed feet, and send us to a dungeon as a criminal, a murderer and a thief, and the people tamely submit to this outrage, then they do not deserve to be free, and are abject paltroons, fit for the ignoble yoke to which they meekly bend their cowardly necks. The citadel of public liberty must be defended! If the press is to be muzzled, and an editor incarcerated in a loathsome dungeon, for daring to criticise the infamous acts of a partizan judge, then what have we left? Have we arrived at that disgraceful period when it is a real cause of congratulation that the vindictive little despot does not send his subjects to the scaffold or the guillotine? Are we so humbled, enslaved and cowed that we are thankful for the liberty of breathing the pure air of heaven? How long is all this to last? How long before an outraged and oppressed people will break the bands that bind them, and rescue their liberties from ruin? The Northern people are marching to a defense of our beleagured liberties. Let us show that we are worthy allies, impelled by the spirit of freemen battling for their rights. The battle just begun will continue until victory perches upon the banner of the people in behalf of Constitution fraternity and equality. Let not the cohorts of despotism and plunder lay the flattering unction to their infamous souls that tyranny is triumphant, and liberty crushed, for they will learn to their cost that

"Freedom's battle once begun,
Bequeath'd from bleeding sire to son,
Though often baffled, is ever won."

WE are assured that a postal car will in a short time be attached to the 12:45 p.m. train, leaving this city on the Memphis and Charleston railroad. This will be a great relief to our many readers along that great line.

Under the regular call the following bills were introduced:

To erect a marine hospital at Cairo.

Repealing the provisions of the Judiciary act, forbidding further appointments until the Supreme Judges are reduced to six.

Also a preamble and sixteen resolutions, a kind of bill of rights, which was introduced by Ross, of Illinois, who moved the previous question, which was not seconded, and then for the purpose of getting a direct vote moved to table it, which was defeated; yeas 8, nays 123.

The following were referred to the Judiciary Committee:

The rules may be suspended at any time during the impeachment trial for the consideration of the business pertaining thereto.

The bill relieving certain persons from political disabilities was resumed, and several names added, including that of John Gilmer, as a reward for having opposed the Lecompton swindle.

It transpired during the debate that the purpose of the bill does not remove the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Article.

Mr. Beck made a point that under the Garland case, the Supreme Court had decided that the General Amnesty did work, as provided by this bill.

Mr. Bingham said the Supreme Court could only decide cases which came up before it, but could make no decision which could operate on the House or Senate.

After this opposition, from an unexpected quarter, and without action, the House adjourned.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.

As President of the New Orleans Associated Press, I deem it my duty to deny the assertions contained in a dispatch sent from this city, which I find in the Northern papers of the 5th instant, as follows:

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—Jefferson Davis is here. All the fire companies gave him repeated cheers as they passed the St. Charles, and when passing General Hancock's headquarters they took off their hats, and their bands played the "Bonnie Blue Flag." But six out of the thirty companies carried the flag of the United States. Indignation is expressed by the loyal citizens, and fears are entertained of trouble to-night.

The only truths which the dispatch contained are that Jefferson Davis was then in this city, and that six of the fire companies carried the United States flag. Last year, when General Sheridan was here, it was carried by only one company, while before the war it was never the custom to carry the national flag in these processions. All of the rest of this dispatch is a falsehood. The agent of the New York Associated Press desires me to say that he did not send or authorize this dispatch, and knew nothing of it until it was returned in the Northern papers, and he concurs with me in the above statement of the falsity of its assertions. Also, that another dispatch sent from this city, asserting that Mr. Davis and General Hancock had been riding in the same carriage together, is a falsehood without a shadow of foundation in fact.

(Signed) A. M. HOLBROOK,
Editor New Orleans Picayune.

A card is published in the city papers this morning, signed by about two hundred northern and western men, who are citizens of this State, endorsing General Hancock's course while in command here. The card says, "our object in addressing you is to make manifest the approval of the northern and western born citizens of this place, of the course pursued by you while here, and this communication may assure the people of the north and west, that your official course has been grossly misrepresented before the country by a few partizans of extreme views, and office seekers, for self interest." General Hancock goes to Washington this evening, pursuant to orders, and General Reynolds, now in Texas, takes command.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, March 16.

The Legislature of Tennessee adjourned to-day, to meet again in November.

Judge Hawkins, of the Supreme Court, has tendered his resignation, and Henry G. Smith, of Memphis, is spoken of as his successor.

A MURDERER ARRESTED.—Detectives Selkirk and Ben. Garrett on Sunday overhauled a negro named William Johnson, who some time since murdered another negro named Hiram Scott, near the city. The two quarreled about a yellow girl of whom both were admirers, and an uncomplimentary remark of Scott relative to Johnson induced the latter to draw a repeater and fire at his rival. The ball struck Scott in the breast, causing him to fall; and while on the ground his adversary fired the remaining five balls, each of which lodged in the wounded man's body. A warrant, issued by Esquire Walton was placed in the hands of detectives Selkirk and Garrett, with the above result.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

The Sheriff Qualifies and is Sworn in—Several Contests to be Made.

Yesterday, upon the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, the county officers elect appeared to file their bonds and be sworn into office.

Colonel A. P. Curry, Sheriff elect, from whom a bond of $50,000 was required, was the first officer qualified, his bondmen being Messrs. Edward Fitzgibbon, Hugh Nott and Enoch Taylor. It was reported that Captain Winters would contest, but no step of that character was taken. Colonel Curry also entered into $500 bonds under the petty offense law, his bondmen being Thomas R. Smith and E. Taylor.

Mr. George M. Greeley, County Register elect, filed his bond, giving as sureties Messrs. Ruel Hough and Joseph Tagg in bonds of $12,500. Mr. C. W. Johnston, through his attorney, General Sale, gave notice that he would contest the election on the grounds that his term of office will not expire until June next. So Mr. Greeley was not sworn in.

Mr. Phil. Garvin, the present County Tax Collector, filed a bill to prevent Mr. Wm. McLean from qualifying for that office. He alleges that the change of Registration Commissioner was illegal, that polls failed to be opened at places officially announced, and that there were illegalities generally.

Judge P. T. Scruggs gave notice that Mr. Thomas E. Leonard will contest Wickersham's right to assume the duties of County Trustee, alleging illegalities of various kinds.

It is understood that Mr. John Donovan will contest Mr. H. L. Fox's right to the Criminal Court Clerkship, claiming that his term of office continues until March, 1869.

The contested cases will come up on Saturday.

Another Attempt to Make Radical Capital.

The presiding genius of the Criminal Court failed to put in an appearance yesterday, and the Clerk solemnly announced that the Court stood adjourned until the 30th of April. The object of this extraordinary action is Radical capital. Conscience stricken, and slinking into dark corners like the most blood stained criminal who ever outraged the laws, the Judge of the Criminal Court pretends that he fears personal violence; and in official expression of that belief has ordered the doors of his court closed. So far as he can make it appear, he and his chosen friends will blazon it to the world that "rebels" prevent a "loyal" judge from discharging his duty. The pretense is false from beginning to end, known to be false when made, yet made in the hope that, through its agency, in some manner, the people can be further crushed into the earth, and the reign of the vagabond liars, thieves and scoundrels of every degree, who have literally smarmed into official position, continued for years to come. When William Hunter charges that he is not safe in the official discharge of his duties, he deliberately utters falsehoods. When the brood of vultures dancing around him caw out that he is in danger of assassination, they join in the infamous falsehood, by which it is sought to complete the work of ruining all who do not acknowledge such slimy, putrid things as Hunter, Beecher, Lewis, and their satellites, black and white, as exemplars of decency.

Hunter has repeatedly outraged the laws in letter and in spirit. He has disgraced the bench in every way that it could be disgraced. He has rendered law a mockery, and justice a farce. He has trampled upon free speech and free press, in the hope of silencing inquiry into his actions. Instead of courting investigation of his official conduct he has sought by threats and persecution to force citizens to silence. Instead of allowing newspapers to substantiate charges whose proof would cause his impeachment were not the Legislature a mass of corruption, he has sent their conductors to jail for contempt.

If he had not long since passed the bounds of decency, we have little doubt that fears of personal violence might some times overtake him. But that change was made long ago, and he has forgotten the meaning of the word. His crimes against law and decency have been committed, as cowards commit crimes, through consciousness of immunity from punishment. This is why Hunter has perpetrated outrages in this community which no one would venture upon elsewhere.

Hunter can open and hold his Court and appear upon the streets without fear of molestation. No true friend of conservatism would harm a hair of his head, or countenance any other than legal resistance to his arbitrary acts. If he fears violence, Southern men—ex confederate soldiers—will be found to escort him to and from his court room, and treat him tenderly as one is wont to treat babies and imbeciles. The proprietors of the AVALANCHE will volunteer in the posse and defend him from harm at all hazards. No one in his sober senses wishes to do aught against him outside the pale of the law.

Our feelings toward Hunter have changed from resentment to contempt, and are fast changing from contempt to pity. It has become a question with us whether this old conglomeration of malice and infamy is not a downright lunatic. The chances are at least even that any competent Board of Medical Examiners would pronounce him crazy as a loon. All the Radicals with any claims to decency cut his acquaintance long ago. If there are any persons left who feel an interest in the old wretch they will be doing him and the community a service by carting him off to the most convenient lunatic asylum at once. Let him be put in a straight jacket and taken in out of the wet.

HABEAS CORPUS.

The Case of Colonel M. C. Gallaway and Mr. J. M. Campbell Again.

Preliminaries Arranged and Argument Set for Thursday, Nine a.m.

The application of Colonel M. C. Gallaway and Mr. J. M. Campbell for a writ of habeas corpus came up before Judge Waldran, of the Municipal Court, at 9:30 yesterday morning. The State was represented by Mr. Griffin.

A discussion arose as to whether the petitioners or State were entitled to the opening and closing speeches.

Mr. E. M. Yerger contended that the petitioners were entitled to both, and cited the rulings of the other city courts to sustain his position.

Colonel Landon C. Haynes and Mr. Bullock took the same ground, alluding to the fact that it rested with the petitioners to show that they were illegally restrained of their liberty, thus naturally placing them in the same position as though they were the prosecution.

Judge Waldran remarked that the contrary had been the practice in that Court, but that he was not exactly clear as to the points involved, and would reserve any decision until the case was brought up for argument Thursday.

Mr. Yerger said that so far as this case was concerned the petitioners were willing to permit the opposite side to have both the opening and closing speeches, but he objected to the action being regarded as a precedent.

The Court was still unwilling to make any decision.

Mr. Griffin, who had been designated as one of Judge Hunter's counsel, desired to know the exact position in which he stood toward Attorney General Wallace, with reference to the management of the case.

Attorney General Wallace explained that his position was exactly similar to that occupied when the case was before the Criminal Court. Having thoroughly examined the case in all its legal bearings, and been satisfied that the entire proceedings were without warrant of law, he had not participated. During the pending trial he proposed, as before, to maintain a position of armed neutrality. [Laughter.] He desired that Mr. Griffin, as first counsel chosen by the Court, should act as chief counsel, and have exclusive management of the case.

Mr. Griffin, in reply, disclaimed any intention of reflecting on General Wallace by his question. He did not mean to insinuate, as the gentleman might imply, that he deemed the Attorney General, in consequence of his known opinions, liable to injure the case for the State. Aware of the delicate position in which the Attorney General was placed, he had spoken with the view of relieving him from any embarrassment.

General Wallace expressed himself satisfied with the explanation, and regarded the matter as thoroughly understood between them.

The Court gave Mr. Griffin permission to select other counsel, and set the case for Thursday morning at nine o'clock, the petitioners meanwhile remaining at large on their recognizance.

The interest felt in this trial has caused it to be universally commented on. We learn that a number of ladies design being present, and we should not be surprised at a large attendance.

ST. PATRICK.

Anniversary of the Day Dear to all True Irishmen in Every Clime.

How "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" will be Celebrated in Memphis.

This is the 17th of March, St. Patrick's day—an occasion dear to the heart of every true native or descendant of the Emerald Isle. It is a day on which he feels like laying aside all cares and trials of business, and commemorating in the proper spirit the birth of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, who converted "Ould Ireland" from barbarism, and drove the venomous reptiles into the sea.

Our readers have a thousand times read sketches of St. Patrick; but when the day arrives we cannot resist the temptation to tell the story of his life over again, and shall in a few words say who and what he was.

Saint Patrick (Patricius) the patron Saint of Ireland, born, according to most authorities, near the site of Kilpatrick, at the mouth of the Clyde, in Scotland, died at Ulster, probably, in 464. At the age of sixteen he was carried captive to Ireland by a band of marauders, but made his escape after six months, and reached Scotland. Carried off a second time and escaping, he resolved to become a missionary to the Irish, was ordained in Scotland, and after long preparation was consecrated Bishop. Having previously, according to some accounts, visited Gaul and perhaps Italy, he passed over to his chosen field of labor about 432, and preached the gospel with such extraordinary effect that, although not absolutely the first to introduce christianity into that country, he has almost received the credit of its general conversion. He baptized the kings of Dublin and Munster, and the seven sons of the king of Connaught, with the greater part of their subjects, and before his death had converted almost the whole Island to the faith. St. Bernard testifies that he fixed his metropolitan see at Armagh, and it appears that he appointed several other bishops, with whom he held councils to settle the discipline of the church which he had planted. In his old age he wrote his "Confession," the authenticity of which, however, is doubted. It may be found in Sir James Ware's edition of the works of St. Patrick. The Roman Catholic Church keeps his festival on March 17. A popular legend ascribes to him the banishment of all venomous creatures from the island by means of his crozier or staff, which Ralph Higdon, in his "Polychronicine" mentions as being kept with great veneration at Dublin in 1860.

The various Irish societies of Memphis, comprising the Hibernian Mutual Relief, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and St. Patrick's Temperance Society, will meet at the hall of Irish societies, corner of Main and Adams streets, at 8:30 o'clock, form in procession, headed by a No. 1 brass band, and will march down Main street to Linden, along Linden to St. Patrick's church, where an oration, at 10:30 o'clock, will be delivered by the Rev. Father Walsh. Subject: "Life and character of St. Patrick." After the oration the procession will reform, and march up Second street, across Market, and down Main street; reaching the corner of Main and Adams streets, will disband.

In the evening a lecture will be delivered by the Rev. Father Carroll, in St. Peter's Church, at half past seven o'clock; subject, "Life and Writings of St. Patrick;" while a grand festival and ball will be given in the evening, at the Memphis Club Hall, under the management of an efficient committee.

END OF A DESPERADO.

Between twelve and one o'clock Sunday night Officers Chamberlain and Clinton of the Fourth Ward police discovered some burglars in the act of robbing Mr. B. Biondi's confectionary store, on the northwest corner of Madison and Second streets. They approached stealthily and nabbed the entire party, who proved to be Tom Porter, the notorious mackerel chief, and two confederates named John Harris and Wm. Henderson.

They were taken to the station house. Harris and Henderson made no resistance, but upon reaching the door Porter suddenly eluded the officer, entered second alley, and ran rapidly toward Washington street. He was closely followed by several officers, who vainly endeavored to induce him to halt. Finally, before Porter reached Washington street, one of the officers fired and the fugitive fell. The ball entered the center of the back, penetrating the heart and producing almost instant death. The body was removed to the little court in the rear of the station, where Coroner Cotton held an inquest yesterday forenoon. The verdict was in accordance with the facts above stated.

Porter was about nineteen years of age, and known as a thief during the past seven or eight years. He was daring and shrewd, and not only a robber but a desperado, never hesitating to resist the officers of the law, at the imminent risk of life, if opportunity were presented. If we mistake not, he killed a Federal officer during the war, and has been repeatedly shot at, and, in turn, has not a few times committed murderous assaults on others. Half his time during the past two or three years has been spent in jail, on different charges. He was released only a few days ago with a large number of others, several of whom have already been rearrested on charges of burglary. In ridding the community of him the police have done a good service.

A SPECK OF WAR.

The Board of County Commissioners Eager for the Fray.

The Honorable Chairman and a Lay Member Have a Little Recreation.

If the readers of the AVALANCHE were not convinced on Sunday that they possess an inestimable boon in the Board of County Commissioners, a scene in that remarkable body yesterday, will dissipate all doubts. Squandering the people's money is but a small portion of their accomplishments. The "manly art," as illustrated by the gifted Coburn, and the refinements of language, as daily practised by those high-toned ladies who cluster in the classic purlieus of Billingsgate, have not been suffered to fall into disuse.

Yesterday Dr. W. H. White, who doesn't love the immaculate head-center of the Board, aimed the following shot at him:

"Be it ordered, That the Chairman of this Board make a report in regard to his settlement with the County Trustee, up to January 1st, 1868, as required by law, at the first meeting of the Board."

He insisted on the order being made, as a great deal of money had gone somewhere, and he was exceedingly anxious to know something about it. His remarks were not calculated to smooth the wrinkles on the brow of the great man in the big chair, who replied, in his oily way, that he thought the order useless. He had cast his eagle eye over the accounts, and was satisfied with them.

But the irrepressible Doctor was not satisfied. He thought there was something strange in the effort of the chairman to keep the plain facts back. He hadn't come down from Iowa with his carpet bag and pill factory for nothing, and even went so far as to hint that the honorable Blewis might have particular reasons of his own for smuggling the investigation.

This brought this truly great man to his feet with a bounce that would have made the Black Crook harlequin ashamed of himself. He hurled the insinuation back with scorn. It was a base allegation, and the base allegator knew it. If the gentleman meant to insinuate that he, the chairmain, was actuated by any unworthy notice, he flung the lie into his teeth.

The Dr. caught it in his teeth, and did'nt seem to like it. So he took it by the heels and flung it back again. Blewis ducked his head and caught the elegant missile on the top of his nose. Gathering all his strength, and poising his noble form on his right toe, he raised his flute-like voice to its highest pitch, and intimated that the Dr. was an infamous liar.

But the Dr. was equal to the emergency. Mounting a chair and gracefully arranging his back hair with the key of his carpet-bag, he murmured gently that, like the boy who got kicked by the jackass, he considered the source. This caused a great sensation, owing to everybody regarding the observation as an insult to the jackass. Mr. Loague rapped furiously on a table, but the Dr. soon put an end to that by suggasting, in an iron and lead way, that Mr. Loague didn't happen to run that court, and that he had better render himself invisible to the unattired optic.

By this time the honorable Blewis was grinning at his foe in a Barbourous manner, which fired up that individual to a White heat. Up starts Dr. Wm H. White, Esq., of Iowa, fumbling in his pocket, and he says, says he: "If you call me a liar again, I'll drop you in your seat." [Terrific sensation.] "You'll drop me into my seat, will you?" roared Blewis, in his copper and brass way; "you'll drop me; well, I guess you won't," and he dropped in without the proffered assistance. It was both a flank movement and a joke. It was Leonidas at Thermopylæ. It was Nero playing the jewsharp during a little exercise of the fire department in Rome.

One member of the Board crawled into his carpet bag and viewed the sanguinary conflict through the keyhole; Merriman left in disgust and a perspiration; Haack revolved into a corner on his wheels; and Louis rushed frantically down stairs after "swei bier." Mr. Loague, not knowing exactly what to do or say or look, neither did, said, or looked anything. His thoughts were evidently on another world, and a few moments afterward he was discovered taking astronomical observations through the bottom of a lemonade glass.

The Iowa chieftain carried the day; his pills and nux vomica were several persimmons too many for Blewis' artillery; the order passed with a bang, and like Napoleon at Austerlitz, General White slept on the battle field. If the Coroner can procure a few forty horse power smelling bottles an inquest will be held on the cold corpus to-day.

It is in this festive way that the public interests are taken care of. If we are not a happy people, it is because we are unable to appreciate what these truly great men are doing to restore the country to its former prosperity.

THE LOYAL INDEMNITY SWINDLE.—Messrs. J. D. Davis, A. H. Grisham and W. H. Pearne have been appointed Claim Commissioners for Shelby county, under the loyal indemnity law, which was passed to enrich seedy and needy Radicals, with convenient consciences, at the cost of the people. Mark it, men in Shelby county will swear to claims for losses by the war, who were never known to have the price of a julep before 1862, and who have acquired thousands since then. Of all the infamous swindles, large and small, ever perpetrated in Tennessee, this is the most infamous. Its intent is wholesale robbery, "loyal indemnity" being wrapped around it as a cloak.

MORE COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE MAILS.—Complaints of mail irregularities continue to multiply on all hands. It seems next to impossible to secure the prompt and careful delivery of mail matter sent from Memphis. By letter and verbally we hear of irregularities which should not exist, and would not, did those whose purpose it is to serve the public, perform their duties. On this subject the Bolivar Bulletin of Saturday says: "On last Sunday the schedule time on the Mississippi Central railroad was changed, bringing the train from Jackson, Tennessee, ten minutes earlier than heretofore, and the mail from Memphis just twenty-three hours later than heretofore. Now we would like to know whose fault it is that our Memphis mail matter is delayed just twenty-three hours, when it should reach us one hour sooner than it did under the old regulations. Formerly, our Memphis papers, which left Memphis at two o'clock p.m., and which are printed at daylight, reached us at thirty-seven minutes past five o'clock in the evening of the same day. Now we get them at forty minutes past four the next day—nearly thirty-six hours after publication—when it only takes a passenger three hours and fifty-five minutes to come from Memphis to Bolivar. This is a burning shame, and one that needs correction, and one that shall be corrected, if our poor, feeble efforts can avail ought." The Bulletin charges the postmaster at LaGrange, one G. A. Woodson, with the responsibility of all the shortcomings, and expresses the belief that "if Mr. Woedson would devote his time to his postoffice duties as he should do, instead of running off to Nashville trying to engineer his pet bills through his pet Legislature, that our portion of the country would be better off, whether he had so much profit thereby or not." We have recently been mulcting of the manner in which this LaGrange postmaster discharges his duties, and shall join hands with our cotemporary in the work of compelling him to either pay a little more attention to his office or vacate in favor of some one ready and willing to conduct it in the interests of the public. We have suffered materially in circulation in Bolivar and elsewhere, because of either the inability of the LaGrange postmaster to comprehend his duties or indisposition to perform them. There is not the shadow of excuse for such neglect of duty, and we hope we have heard the last of it.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SUNDAY, March 15.

Officers of steamboats are requested to give no free transportation to any one on the credit of the Avalanche.

M. C. GALLAWAY & CO.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather, cloudy and sultry, with several hard showers of rain during the evening. The river here is still rising at the rate of one-half inch per hour, and has risen sixteen feet altogether. The Ohio is rising from Pittsburg to Cairo with seventeen feet in the channel at Pittsburg. At Louisville the river was rising fast on Saturday, with eleven and a half feet in the canal and eight and a half steamboat water on the falls. At St. Louis the river is rising, with the upper streams all open and rising. There is plenty of water for steamboat purposes between Cairo and St. Louis. The Arkansas was falling at Little Rock on Saturday, with twenty feet in the channel. White river is bank full, and rising slowly at Duvall's Bluff.

BOATS IN PORT.

Des Arc, Celeste, Gleaner, Commercial, Cora S, Sam J. Hale, Mollie Hambleton, Henry Ames, Marble City.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Notice to Steamboat Clerks.

We would call the attention of steamboat clerks and others to the fact that, connected with the Memphis AVALANCHE is the largest book and job printing establishment in this city, and we are prepared to execute orders for every description of steamboat printing and binding at rates as low as any establishment in the city.

There was a fair amount of business doing on the wharf yesterday, with a large number of boats in port. Freights for all points are scarce. The rain poured down in torrents last evening for a while, checking all operations on the wharf.

The Pauline Carroll, John Kilgour and Alice Dean passed down on Sunday for New Orleans heavily freighted.

The Lady Gay passed down last night well freighted.

The Silas Wright came in from Fort Smith on Sunday, and departed last night for St. Louis.

The river continues its rapid rise here and is full of drift. Tremendous rains are reported all through Northern Illinois and Indiana, with a freshet in both White and Wabash rivers, and the whole country flooded.

The freshet in the Western rivers may prove disastrous to the planters in the bottom lands liable to overflow, and we would advise the planters along the lower Mississippi to prepare for a spring freshet. The rains have been general throughout the Southwest, with all the streams swollen, though as yet we apprehend no overflow of any consequence, as the most dreaded streams, the Arkansas, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, are falling.

The Cora S, Captain King, is receiving at the wharf for Cairo and Louisville, and leaves to-day at five p.m. Mr. Al. Croxall, an affable and clever gentleman, is her prime minister.

The old reliable packet Commercial, Captain Ashford, came in from White river yesterday morning with a splendid trip as usual. She is the regular Tuesday packet, and leaves to-day at five p.m. for all points on White river through to Jacksonport, connecting at Duvall's Bluff with the cars for Little Rock. Charley Smithers, a whole souled gentleman and a competent clerk, presides at the desk.

The superb United States mail passenger packet Des Arc came in from Vicksburg yesterday morning with a big passenger trip and a large list of orders. The Des Arc is rapidly building up a good trade in the bends, and should meet with support from the merchants as she brings a great deal of business to Memphis. The Des Arc is a reliable packet. Captain John Elliott commands, with Messrs. Wm. Miller, Cad. Hanks and Matt. Glass, a trio of clever gentlemen and attentive clerks, in charge of the office. She connects at Vicksburg with the R. E. Lee for New Orleans and the Yazoo packets.

We are glad to learn that our high-toned friend McVay, of the Lee, still reigns supreme on that noble steamer.

The Mollie Hambleton, Captain Bowman, leaves to-day at five p.m., for St. Francis river. Messrs. Paine, Clark and Schell are her clerks.

The Henry Ames, Captain Frank Hicks, made her appearance, from New Orleans, last evening. She is receiving for a return trip to New Orleans, and leaves on Wednesday. This trip, having part of her cargo engaged, at Napoleon, Captain T. L. Crawford and John Sullivan do the honors of the office.

The Sam. J. Wade is up for Cincinnati to day, at five p.m.

The Marble City is the packet for St. Louis to day at five p.m.

The low pressure passenger steamer Richmond passed Vicksburg yesterday morning, at eight o'clock. She will be in port to day, and leave at five p.m., for Cairo and Louisville. Captain Stut. Neal commands, with Captain Wolfolk, an enviable gentleman, in charge of the office, assisted by Mr. Bob Lodge.

The P. W. Strader, Stonewall and Swallow are due to-morrow from New Orleans.

The Great Republic loaded at St. Louis for New Orleans at the following low rates: Flour, 25c. per barrel; oats, 22½c. per sack; corn 20c.; and pound freights 15c.

The Lady Gay's rates were: Flour, 35c. per barrel; oats, 30c.; corn, 20c.; pound freights, 20c.

Radical misrule, which destroyed the commercial pursuits of the Southwest, in this case falls very heavily on their misguided friends; and as these men have helped to put thieves and vagabonds in power, they have no right to complain of hard times, but must "grin and bear" their heavy burden. The steamboat interests are rapidly decreasing and business is daily falling off. A few more kicks from that mass of corruption, the so called Congress, will entirely destroy the steamboat interests of the Southwest.

The Belle Lee passed down last night from Louisville for New Orleans well freighted.

Con. Miller, Esq, the veteran river editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, and his family, were on board the Belle Lee on a pleasure trip. We hope his Southern trip will tend to reconstruct him in his Southern views.

We regret to see the depreciation in steamboat stock, as the general class of steamboatmen are a liberal and honorable set of men, but many that have suffered by the dull times for the past year can have the satisfaction of knowing that they voted the mongrels into office, who are now grinding them down with an iron heel.

Late advices from Louisville report the river rising at that point at the rate of an inch per hour, with ten feet on the falls and thirteen feet in the canal.

The Emperor is due from Cincinnati.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, March 17, 1868.

The money market yesterday was quiet, with little animation exhibited in financial circles. Money continues to rule stringent, with little doing in the discount market. The rates of interest are firm and unchanged. Exchange is scarce and firm, buying on the East at ⅜@¼c. discount, and selling at ¼c. premium.

GOLD—In New York opened at 139⅛, advanced to 139¾ and closed at 139⅝. The market here was firm; dealers offering 38@39 and selling at 39½.

SILVER—Remains steady, buying at 127@128 and selling at 129@130

CITY SCRIP—The market yesterday opened firm, at 65@66c. but after 12 o'clock the market became weak and heavy, with few buyers and dealers anxious to realize. There was one or two transactions in the morning, but closed heavy, with the buying rates nominal and irregular.

COUNTY WARRANTS—Are quiet and steady, with little doing in the market. Dealers are offering 52@53c. and holding at 55c.

POLICE SCRIP—Steady; buying at 83@85c. and selling at 86@87c.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, March 17, 1868.

Business in the general market yesterday was quiet and steady, with a good jobbing trade doing in provisions and breadstuffs. Meats are firm and in fair demand, with the receipts equal to the requirements. Corn is in full supply with a small jobbing trade doing. Groceries are firm and steady, with prices unchanged. The Vicksburg and bends packet Des Arc, brought in yesterday a large list of orders for plantation supplies. Our merchants should use extra exertions to sustain the Vicksburg packet and foster the trade that naturally belongs to them, but has been carried by our doors to St. Louis by their packets. Memphis merchants can secure a lucrative trade from the bends if they maintain the regular packet and solicit business as they should. Now is the time to regain the trade which has been lost to the city for the past season. Memphis this year has proven herself to be the best cotton market in the South. We direct the attention of the business men of the city to the National Telegraph company, an advertisement of which will be found in to-day's AVALANCHE. Telegraphic facilities are what the Southwest demands—what Memphis needs. Low rates cannot be hoped for while telegraphs are ruled by a monopoly, as it is now by the Western Union.

Cincinnati Provision Exchange.

CINCINNATI, March 15, 1868.

The provision market during the week past has ruled quiet. The difference in views as between buyers and sellers has done much to check the trade, and the declining tendency of other markets has also had an effect of quieting ours, yet holders are not willing to let any round lots go at offering prices, and the only sales making at any material decline is of odds and ends and tag lots to close out commissions or consignments, strong holders, prefering to trust to the future, believing that all the stuff will be wanted at fair prices. The market closed decidedly quiet and dull, and in order to make sales, concessions would have to be made, while if large orders were in the market there would inevitably be an advance. Mess pork—has ruled quiet, opening at $24 50, closing at $24 00 for city, with but little disposition to sell at the latter price; country sold at $23 50 to-day at a country point. Rumps—have been in good demand all the week at $17 00@18 50 for fair to choice, and about all to be had at these figures were taken. Lard—closed to-day in better demand, with some buyers at 15c. at the close, generally held ½c. higher, but little steam offered at ¼c to ½c. less. Greases—are scarce and in fair demand at 10½@13c. for dark to white. Bulk meats—are much inquired for as an investment and at a shade less than quotations, would be taken freely. They are held at 10, 11, 12½@13c. loose, for shoulders, sides, clear rib and clear sides. Hams, 13¼@13½c. loose. Sweet pickled hams, 14½@14¾c., green weights. Bacon—is quiet, no orders to buy and but little disposition to sell, except in small lots at quotations. We quote shoulders, 11c; rib sides, 13c; clear rib 14c; clear, 14½c. as the trading figures. Sugar cured hams, 17½@18c. according to reputation of brand; plain, 15@15½c. Plate beef—scarce and in good demand at $22 00@23 00. Beef hams—scarce at $33 00; smoked, 18@19c. packed.

THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

Affairs at the National Capitol.

[Special telegraphic correspondence of the Louisville Courier.]

WASHINGTON, March 13.

The third act in the great national performance took place to-day.

Under the ticket system the galleries were packed, but the crowd was by no means select or distingue. The females generally were of the boarding house order, and a rougher crowd of men has rarely appeared in the walls of the capitol; a fact not very creditable to Senators and Representatives, as they gave tickets to their friends and acquaintances.

There was not a negro present, Sumner having neglected his sable friends. The latter, and hundreds of white persons, however, filled the rotunda and corridors.

The diplomatic body was largely represented.

A message from the President being announced shortly before the hour for convening the court, it gave rise to a rumor that he had resigned, and several Senators crowded forward to the Secretary's desk to inquire as to the truth of the report.

The message, however, proved to be only some unimportant nominations, and in a few minutes Chief Justice Chase took the chair.

Howard, who, with Conkling and Edmunds, have thrust themselves forward as conductors of impeachment on the part of the Senate, led off with a motion, but was subdued by Mr. Chase, who directed the reading of the journal.

The managers on the part of the House and the President's counsel, Curtis, Stanberry and Nelson, came in, and proceedings were commenced.

In the remarks which ensued on the application of the President's counsel for forty days' time, Bingham and Wilson, on the part of the managers, indicated the purpose of their fellow-conspirators to force a trial, in violation of the practice of courts, precedent or propriety.

Edmunds manifested a desire to make a show of decency, and proposed to give the accused until April 6th.

This brought up Morton, who moved that the court retire for deliberation, which was agreed to.

In their secret meetings (for these Senators are sworn to secresy), Edmunds was choaked down, and rampant Radicalism ruled.

The result was, after two hours' stormy debate, in which Hendricks, Sumner, Howard, Davis, Sherman and others, by a formal and close vote the conspirators carried their point, and fixed March 23d as the day for the President's answer. They had proposed to force him to plead to-day, but abandoned the idea when it was intimated that the President's counsel would withdraw in consequence.

Subsequently Howard & Co. again succeeded in fixing the time of trial so that there is really but ten working days for the President to prepare.

During the absence of the Court, Thaddeus Stevens ate his lunch in the presence of the vast crowd; perhaps the first time such an event ever occurred in the American Senate. Stevens seemed to enjoy his repast.

There is certainly great interest in the impeachment, but no excitement, and the proceedings to-day have no bearing on the results other than evincing the settled, dogged purpose of the revolutionary cabal to convict the Executive without an hour's delay, if it can be done.

There is the danger under which Mr. Johnson rests; for if the trial is protracted, it would fall through. Serious apprehensions fill the minds of his friends if the trial should be speedily concluded.

The Radicals felicitate themselves on the trick of stealing a march on the Democrats by smuggling through an amendment to the bill providing for appeals to the supreme Court in a revenue case, and prohibiting the jurisdiction of the Court substantially in reconstruction cases.

It will not affect the decision in the McCardle case or any other. The Supreme Court, if necessary, will decide this bill unconstitutional.

A city railway in St. Louis has been sued for $5,000 damages, by a woman whose husband was recently killed by the alleged carelessness of the company.

Price everywhere invariably Three Dollars Cash.

The old Dasher makes but TWO agitations of the cream at each up and down motion.

The FINLEY DASHER makes from TEN to FIFTEEN agitations at each up and down motion.

The FINLEY DASHER DOES introduce large and constant supplies of fresh air.

The old Dasher leaves from ONE-FOURTH to ONE-THIRD of the butter in the cream, because it CANNOT remove it.

The FINLEY DASHER takes ALL the butter out of the cream, and therefore ONE-FOURTH to ONE-THIRD more than the old Dasher.

The old Dasher requires the hard work of a HALF to ONE HOUR. The FINLEY DASHER WILL DO THE SAME WORK in from FIVE to FIFTEEN minutes.

The old Dasher consumes TWENTY to TWENTY-SIX HOURS EACH MONTH in churning. The FINLEY DASHER does the same work in LESS THAN FIVE HOURS and with GAIN in QUANTITY of butter sufficient to buy TWO FINLEY DASHERS at three dollars each.

The FINLEY DASHER can be SO EASILY CLEANED—made "bright as a spoon," and WILL RETAIN ITS SWEETNESS, so essential to good milk and butter.

The FINLEY DASHER gives to the butter a decidedly firm, "waxy," "grainy" appearance—better for table, with more in the market.

The FINLEY DASHER, in the latter respect has the advantage over all Crank or Rotary Churns—THEY TAKE THE GRAIN OUT OF THE BUTTER AND LEAVE IT FLAT.

The FINLEY DASHER will last a life time if not abused.

The FINLEY DASHER is adapted to "old fashioned churns."

ANY ONE can use the FINLEY DASHER—so simple.

The FINLEY DASHER is being used over the greater portion of Middle and West Tennessee, North and Central Mississippi, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas, Alabama, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and Western New York, with the very greatest satisfaction.
